Welcome to ProQuest's 2010 Social Sciences Collection

Highlights

The last 12 months have been very exciting for ProQuest in terms of Social Sciences. We've been working very closely with academic researchers to find out what new materials they need to help their studies. Relationships with a great many publishing partners then enabled us to compile three brand new full-text packages to meet many of these user demands:

NEW! ProQuest® Library Science – over 150 titles, designed to support ProQuest Library and Information Sciences Abstracts (turn to page 1).

NEW! ProQuest Sociology – over 180 titles, designed to support ProQuest Sociological Abstracts and ProQuest Social Services Abstracts (turn to page 3).

NEW! ProQuest Political Science – coverage of 150 core politics titles that support ProQuest Worldwide Political Science Abstracts (turn to page 8).

These new products have been showcased at Social Science conferences around the world and we're delighted that market feedback and take-up of these new resources has been favourable.

We've also just released the first digital library resource dedicated to the unique needs of African American genealogical research:

NEW! ProQuest® African American Heritage is a groundbreaking new resource that provides key genealogical and historical records specific to tracing the lives of African Americans (turn to page 4).

Our product development process is an ongoing one and we encourage your involvement and feedback on all future initiatives. At present we are involved in the development of a new full-text

Linguistics product (due for release later in 2010) that will act as support to the existing A&I product ProQuest Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts (see page 10).

We hope you find this year's Social Sciences brochure informative and helpful to your e-resource selection decisions. For information about how to contact your local representative or to set up a FREE trial of any product featured here, please turn to the back cover.

Researchers have to take onboard global views and opinions to ensure they remain unbiased; included in this year's brochure, we're delighted to provide a special feature section that details all our Diversity Databases – many of which give a different perspective on subject material. With student migration also becoming more prevalent, this selection of databases is an ideal starting point for any library looking to build its portfolio in a fashion that meets the shifting ethnicity of student enrolment.

Education and Library Science

ProQuest Library and Information Sciences Abstracts (LISA)

Designed exclusively for library professionals and other information specialists

LISA has the ability to help all levels of information professionals and provides strong coverage of librarianship, information science (including medical information) and related fields. Dating back to 1969, LISA's index supplies abstracts of some 600 periodicals from more than 68 countries and in more than 20 different languages. Updated monthly, with more than 1,000 records added per update, this truly is a dynamic resource.

ProQuest Professional Education™

Designed for educators and lifelong learning

ProQuest Professional Education delivers over 350 magazines and journals that address all aspects of education including the arts, career and guidance, information technology, health and wellness policy, language arts, library science, mathematics, school management and administration, science and social sciences.

This database makes an ideal study support for teachers and administrators alike, whether using the database to provide professional in-library services, designing study aids and best practice guides, researching material for classroom application, or just pursuing personal study. Coverage dates from 1981 onwards and almost 90% is available in full text.

NEW! ProQuest® Library Science

Theoretical and applied literature of library and information science

ProQuest Library Science gives users access to over 145 top publications in library and information science. This collection is specifically designed to provide full-text support for the core titles included in the authoritative Library and Information Science Abstracts databases, available on CSA Illumina. The linking capabilities of the CSA Illumina platform allow seamless access into ProQuest Library Science titles.

Offering complete information on hundreds of topics researched in the field of library and information science, this database offers complete text and images from journals such as:

- American Libraries
- Collection Building
- Portal: Libraries and the Academy
- Reference & User Services Quarterly
- School Libraries Worldwide
- Technical Communication Quarterly

Image articles include all the charts, tables, diagrams, and other graphical elements often used to enhance the editorial value of articles that focus on education topics.

ProQuest Education Journals™

The one-stop source for full-text education journals

This ProQuest database provides users with access to the full text for some 800 top educational publications. Offering complete information on hundreds of educational topics, this database includes both text and images from journals such as Childhood Education, College Teaching, Harvard Educational Review, Journal of Athletic Training, and Educational Theory. Charts, tables, diagrams and other graphical elements all serve to enhance the editorial value of these articles. The database covers not only the literature on primary, secondary and higher education but also home schooling, SEN, adult education and hundreds of related topics.

ERIC® (Educational Resources Information Center)

Easy web access to key journals and documents

ERIC is the world's most widely used index to educational literature. Administered by the US National Library of Education (NLE), it provides citations and abstracts for over 1 million documents and journal articles dating back to 1966.

CBCA Education

(Canadian Business & Current Affairs)
Over two decades of Canadian pedagogy

CBCA Education focuses on Canadian information in the field of education. It includes over 270 journals, with file depth back to the 1980s. Academic, administrative, professional and topical journals are all included, as are newswires.

ProQuest® Career and Technical Education

Vocational information for further education colleges, public libraries and institutions offering technical training

ProQuest Career and Technical Education caters to a wide range of users, both students and instructors. With over 545 titles to choose from (more than 85% in full text), users can find information in virtually every vocational and technical subject. The database is updated daily so users can be sure they're getting the latest information.

The topics covered include computing science, healthcare, building trades, auto mechanics, sales and retail, accounting, graphic design, photography, nursing and more. Example titles, illustrating the breadth of coverage include Agricultural Research, Computer Technology Review, Law & Order, Nutrition and Food Science, and Printed Circuit Design.

Sociology

ProQuest Sociological Abstracts

Bringing you sociological research from 1952

ProQuest Sociological Abstracts delivers an unparalleled and expansive collection of material from international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioural sciences, dating back to 1952.

The database provides well over 940,000 journal abstracts, citations and book reviews drawn from over 2,000 serials publications as well as many other abstracts of books, book chapters, dissertations and conference papers, making it perfect for postgraduates, researchers and students.

Many records from key journals in sociology link to an abstract and/or other papers that cite that reference, further increasing the possibility of finding more potentially relevant articles. These references also link across other social science databases on the CSA Illumina platform.

Major topics covered within ProQuest Sociological Abstracts include:

- Culture and social structure
- Demography and human biology
- Economic development
- Environmental interactions
- Evaluation research
- Health, medicine and law
- History and theory of sociology
- Management and complex organisations
- Mass phenomena and political interactions
- Methodology and research technology
- Policy, planning, forecasting and speculation
- Radical sociology
- Religion and science
- Rural and urban sociology
- Social development
- Sociology of the arts, business and education
- Studies in violence and power
- Welfare services
- Women's studies

ProQuest Sociological Abstracts Discovery Prize

ProQuest, the publisher of ProQuest Sociological Abstracts, the premier bibliographic database of international sociological literature, has an annual call for submissions describing how use of ProQuest Sociological Abstracts has assisted in teaching and learning. Entries will provide practical examples of how this database has advanced sociological scholarship and research, as well as contributed to the development of information literacy skills among students.

Please visit www.proquest.com/go/discoveryprize for more information.

International coverage from over 500 journals

ASSIA is an indexing and abstracting tool covering health, social services, psychology, sociology, economics, politics, race relations and education. Updated monthly, ASSIA provides a comprehensive source of social science and health information for the practical and academic professional.

ASSIA currently contains over 470,000 records from more than 500 journals published in 16 different countries, including the UK and the US. Major areas of coverage include: anxiety disorders, cultural anthropology, ethnic studies, unemployment, and immigration.

NEW! ProQuest Sociology

Search the full text of leading sociology journals

This collection provides full-text coverage of over 180 core titles included in ProQuest Sociological Abstracts and ProQuest Social Services Abstracts. Coverage dates back to 1985, and in many cases, users will find full images of graphs, diagrams and illustrations.

Titles include: American Sociological Review; Archives Européennes de Sociologie/European Journal of Sociology; Criminology; International Journal of Sociology and Social Policy; Rural Sociology; Sociological Theory; Symbolic Interaction.

ProQuest Social Science Journals™

Perfect for those needing quick access to a variety of journals

This database indexes 560 social science publications and provides full text for over 330 of these for those who need access to a variety of scientific journals. Disciplines covered include: addiction studies, gerontology, economics, international relations, minority studies, urban studies and more.

Included are titles such as American Demographics, Ethics, Journal of Family Issues, The Public Interest, and Spectrum. Index coverage begins in 1971. In many cases, users will find full images of the graphs, diagrams and illustrations so vital to scientific and technical literature.

IBSS: International Bibliography of the Social Sciences

Unique in its broad coverage of international material

IBSS incorporates over 100 languages and pulls together over 2.5 million bibliographic references to journal articles, books and reviews, as well as selected chapters dating back to 1951, making it an ideal addition to any institution's holding. Over 2,800 journals are regularly indexed and some 7,000 additional books are included each year. IBSS's main focus is on the four core social science disciplines (anthropology, economics, politics and sociology) but it also covers a range of interdisciplinary subjects.

Especially strong on international material, over 50% of journals are published outside the UK and the US.

FRANCIS

A multilingual, multidisciplinary database covering the humanities and social sciences

FRANCIS contains more than 1 million records, with abstracts in French or English, and descriptors in both languages, and includes coverage of journals, books, conference papers and other documents from many countries and in many languages.

The FRANCIS database has been created by the Institut de l'Information Scientifique et Technique of the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (INIST-CNRS) in Vandoeuvre-les-Nancy, France.

Why subscribe to an Abstract and Index database?

- A&I databases are immense and cover entire disciplines. Searching an A&I database allows students to make important discoveries in unforeseen places, not just the top journals researchers know and habitually use.
- Controlled vocabularies help researchers find the most relevant articles – focused, richly detailed, precise and accurate results.
- A&I databases provide a finding aid to the library's existing full text, irrespective of format. In this way, A&I databases drive usage of the library's expensive electronic and print collections.
- ProQuest Smart Search and links allow users to access full text from valuable sources from an easy-to-use interface.
- Where full text is not available via the library's own holdings, it can be obtained via interlibrary loan or document delivery.
- Universities that are more undergraduate based, typically have three or four core focus areas of expertise. A&I is a good target for those core competencies.
- Once full text is under subscription, A&I subject-specific areas can provide deeper research focus in key areas and help supply maximum return on the full-text collections.
- Researchers and students simply do not have the time to read all full-text articles, A&I can be a valuable time saver.

Diversity

ProQuest is proud to bring you an unmatched collection of alternative and minority databases that feature an abundance of social and cultural perspectives.

The Gerritsen Collection of Aletta H Jacobs FT

CHOICE 2007 Outstanding Academic Title

Aggregated by Dutch physician and feminist Aletta Jacobs and her husband C V Gerritsen in the late 1800s, feminist materials in this collection span four centuries and 15 languages. The Gerritsen Collection includes more than 4,700 publications from continental Europe, the US, the UK, Canada, and New Zealand.

It consists of two segments:

- Periodical Series: 25% of the entire collection. For the years 1860 through to 1900, Jacobs scrupulously sought complete runs, and the result is a collection of 265 titles, among them The Suffragist (1913–21) and The Women's Protest Against Woman Suffrage (1912–18).
- Monograph Language Series: 4,471 monographs and pamphlets comprise 75% of the materials, grouped by language. Included are 2,336 titles tracing suffragism in the English-speaking world, 929 German titles which document the history of organised movements in Germany and Switzerland, 734 French titles that cover women and women's issues from Gallic times through World War II, plus another 472 titles in 12 languages.

GenderWatch™ FT

CHOICE 2008 Outstanding Academic Title

GenderWatch enhances gender and women's studies, and gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender (GLBT) research by providing authoritative perspectives from 1970 to present. This well-established and highly reviewed resource offers over 260 titles, with more than 240 in full text, from an array of academic, radical, community and independent presses. Researchers and teachers may access more than 219,000 full articles on wide-ranging topics like sexuality, religion, societal roles, feminism, masculinity, eating disorders, healthcare, and the workplace.

GenderWatch's strong collection of important, current titles provides users with comprehensive support for gender, family, ethnic, and societal studies from both academic and grassroots perspectives.

NEW! ProQuest® African American Heritage FT

Groundbreaking new resource exclusively devoted to African American genealogy

Genealogical research for African Americans can be more challenging than other genealogical inquiries as a consequence of slavery and the changing legal status of African Americans. Records made prior to the Civil Rights era were segregated and are difficult to find, and oral histories passed down from generation to generation may be incomplete or inaccurate.

Chris Cowan, Vice President of Publishing for ProQuest, notes that "with limited local resources and no dedicated electronic library resources for African American family history research, libraries have found it challenging to meet the unique needs of their users. Now, ProQuest African American Heritage helps to fill that gap by bringing together genealogical and historical resources critical to researching African American heritage back into the 18th century and helps people put together missing pieces of their past."

Presenting relevant and unique content as well as providing insights and suggestions on further searching, this database includes US federal census, freedman and slave records, birth, marriage and death records, church records, court and legal records, genealogies and family histories.

It also incorporates social networking, digital how-to tools and reference books, including a special online edition of Black Genesis, an exhaustive guide that makes locating resources pertaining to slaves and free blacks easier.

Black Studies Center™

FT

Black Studies Center offers a core collection of studies from the foremost academic experts, together with full-text journals, a historical back file for the Chicago Defender newspaper, an extensive multimedia and photo library, and more.

Black Studies Center includes:

- Schomburg Studies on the Black Experience™: cross-disciplinary essays by today's leading scholars in Black Studies, plus rare primary sources, biographies, timelines, and other contextual materials.
- Chicago Defender, 1909–1975: the full-image back files of the leading African American newspaper.
- International Index to Black Periodicals Full Text™: journals from Africa, the US, and the Caribbean.

In addition, The HistoryMakers™ (sold separately) and nine titles from ProQuest Historical Newspapers™ – Black Newspapers (sold separately) can also be searched through the Black Studies Center. This provides an unmatched cross-searchable gateway to Black Studies, with oral history videos, scholarly essays, recent periodicals, newspaper articles, and much more.

NEW! Black Abolitionist Papers (1830–1865)

Covering the period 1830–1865, the collection presents the massive, international impact of African American activism against slavery, in the writings and publications of the activists themselves. The approximately 15,000 articles, documents, correspondence, proceedings, manuscripts, and literary works of almost 300 Black Abolitionists show the full range of their activities in the United States, Canada, England, Scotland, Ireland, France and Germany.

The HistoryMakers™

Over 100 oral histories

This exceptional collection offers unique insights about the events that have impacted the lives of remarkable African Americans. You will find 100 two-to-three-hour video interviews, with searchable and downloadable scripts, of contemporary African Americans. Many of these individuals were the first to break barriers in business, science, medicine, education, and government.

These oral histories are subject-indexed and fully searchable, with details of early memories, family life, education, and professional work. The HistoryMakers collection includes interviews of President Barack Obama, Reverend Al Sharpton, Gordon Parks, John Lewis, John H Johnson, Julian Bond, Nikki Giovanni, John Hope Franklin, Terry McMillan, Isaac Hayes, Alvin Poussaint, and many more.

The HistoryMakers is fully integrated for cross-searching with other unique content sets from the Black Studies Center that are focused on the African American experience.

Publicaciones y Revistas Sociales y Humanísticas (PRISMA)

FT

100+ key titles from the Hispanic American Periodicals Index

This scholarly resource of full-text journals specifically focuses on the humanities and social sciences in Latin American, Caribbean, Hispanic American, and Latino studies. PRISMA offers Spanish, Portuguese, and English interfaces, and a growing collection of 120 full-text journals.

The resource may be integrated with the renowned Hispanic American Periodicals Index (HAPI) for mutual customers. With the index, users have access to the full-subject thesaurus from the Hispanic American Periodicals Index, as well as full-text articles. Academic titles from over 20 countries allow easy access to thousands of hard-to-locate scholarly articles. PRISMA offers full-text coverage from 1987 to current. Combined with the Hispanic American Periodicals Index, citation access is expanded back to 1966.

CultureGrams™

2008 SIIA CODiE Award Finalist!

FT

Local experts document the unique, intimate details of each country's customs, traditions, and daily life from Afghanistan to Zimbabwe. Twenty-five key cultural aspects, multimedia links, and statistical snapshots offer an equality of coverage for every country, whether big or small.

New content and tools in CultureGrams include flag and map outlines, graphing and data tools, time and distance calculators, citation generator, expanded flag and image galleries, and more. Other enhancements include streaming, downloadable video, and slideshows.

Index Islamicus

Essential information on Islam, the Middle East and the Muslim world

The Index Islamicus database is the essential resource for study and teaching on the Islamic world. Produced by an editorial team working at the School of Oriental and African Studies in London – established to transmit knowledge about Islamic and Middle Eastern studies – records cover almost 100 years of publications on the world of Islam. The content covers the Middle East, Muslim areas of Asia and Africa, as well as Muslim minorities in Europe and North America. Over 3,000 journals are monitored for inclusion in the database, together with conference proceedings, monographs, multi-authored works, and book reviews. Journals and books are indexed down to the article and chapter level.

ProQuest International Newsstand

This comprehensive international newspaper resource provides information from more than 220 of the world's top newspapers. For nearly all of them, complete back files are available in ASCII format. The South China Morning Post, El Norte, Financial Times, The Guardian, Dar Al-Hayat, Jerusalem Post, Tokyo Financial Wire, The Daily Telegraph, Asian Wall Street Journal, and the BBC Monitoring series of publications are just a few of the sources in ProQuest International Newsstand.

Middle East Newsstand

Middle East Newsstand provides access to current English-language newspapers from across the Arab World, Israel, and Southwest Asia, including the Jerusalem Post, featuring a deep back file from 1988 to present, Gulf Daily News (Bahrain), Sudan Tribune, and Yemen Times.

Latin American Newsstand

Latin American Newsstand features over 43 full-text Latin American newspaper titles in Spanish, Portuguese, and English. All of the carefully selected titles represent the leading sources from Latin America, with coverage from Brazil to Argentina, and Mexico to Panama.

International Index to Black Periodicals Full Text™

Scholarly and popular literature in Black Studies

This is the only full-text online database available to provide a comprehensive index of current and retrospective scholarly and popular periodical literature in Black Studies. As well as the full-text coverage of over 42 core Black Studies periodicals (1998 onwards), it supplies bibliographic citations and abstracts from 150 scholarly and popular journals, newspapers and newsletters from the US, Africa and the Caribbean. Additional retrospective coverage includes 193,000 brief citations dating back to 1902.

ProQuest Historical Newspapers™ – Black Newspapers

The Black voice speaks out

ProQuest Historical Newspapers – Black Newspapers reveals the stories that shaped the United States in the 20th century.

- Atlanta Daily World (1931–2003)
- The Baltimore Afro-American (1893–1988)
- Chicago Defender (1910–1975)
- Cleveland Call and Post (1934–1991)
- Los Angeles Sentinel (1934–2005)
- New York Amsterdam News (1922–1993)
- Pittsburgh Courier (1911–2002)
- The Norfolk Journal and Guide (1921–2003)
- The Philadelphia Tribune (1912–2001)

These titles gave voice to the people, culture, politics, business, arts, and other significant issues in communities that often received limited attention from other papers. These primary source materials support history, genealogy, political science, diversity, and other subject areas.

Ethnic NewsWatch™

Ethnic and minority perspectives: the other side of the stories

Ethnic NewsWatch provides unique, thought-provoking views of local, national, and international events as reported in the African American, African, Caribbean, Arab and Middle Eastern, Asian American, European and Eastern European, Hispanic, Jewish, Native American, and multiethnic press.

This comprehensive full-text database of newspapers, magazines, and journals includes archival material back to 1977. Ethnic NewsWatch also offers a vast collection of nearly 1.8 million full-text articles from 316 publications, including many important Spanish-language publications. New content from expanding ethnic populations is added weekly.

Ethnic NewsWatch: A History™

A retrospective from 1959–1989

The retrospective companion to Ethnic NewsWatch, Ethnic NewsWatch: A History extends coverage from 1959 to 1989. Ethnic NewsWatch: A History presents a 30-year historical perspective of the other side of the story regarding local, national, and international events, including the civil rights struggle, Vietnam War protests, economics, and the status of migrant workers in the US.

African American Biographical Database (AABD)

A landmark collection for African American studies

In a single resource, AABD brings together biographies, rare books and historical information on thousands of African Americans from 1790–1950 – many not found in any other reference source. In addition, AABD offers full-text searching for over 140 titles. As well as having direct online access to biographical information, users can view thousands of photographs and illustrations, and the biographical dictionaries used to compile the biographies.

Psychology and Philosophy

ProQuest Psychology Journals™

FT

Specialist titles with broad coverage

Providing complimentary full-text support for PsycINFO, ProQuest Psychology Journals offers more than 650 titles from specialist publishers, with over 540 of these in current full text dating from 1961. It also includes 4,600 full-text dissertations representing a range of psychology disciplines and spanning the years 2000-2006.

In addition to clinical and social psychology, it provides coverage of related disciplines including genetics, psychology of business and economics, communication, criminology, addiction, education, gerontology, linguistics, hypnosis, psychiatry, neurology, and social welfare.

PILOTS

(Published International Literature on Traumatic Stress)

Authoritative coverage of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder

PILOTS is a bibliographic database, produced at the headquarters of the National Center for Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder in White River Junction, Vermont and sponsored by the US Department of Veterans Affairs. Its goal is to include citations to all literature on post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and other mental health consequences of traumatic events, without disciplinary, linguistic, or geographical limitations, and to offer both current and retrospective coverage.

PsycBOOKS™

Compilation of scholarly books from APA and other distinguished publishers

Updated Monthly!

FT

Delivering content in PDF format, PsycBOOKS includes chapters of both authored and edited books as individual documents. The collection covers a broad range of psychological and behavioural topics and includes content relevant not only to psychology, but also to many related disciplines such as psychiatry, pharmacology, management, business, education, neuroscience, law, medicine, and social work.

Launched in 2004, it provides full-text PDFs of over 1,700 books; (embargo of 12 months applies).

PsycCRITIQUES®

The most current reviews and news

FT

Updated Weekly!

Having joined the APA family of research databases in 2004, PsycCRITIQUES offers a searchable database of book and film reviews, some film, videos, and software in psychology (currently more than 38,000). In each weekly release, PsycCRITIQUES delivers approximately 20 reviews of psychological books (over 38,700 in total). Useful to faculty members to identify literature that is pertinent to coursework; perfect for librarians as it represents a definitive and up-to-the-minute collection; great for students to identify longitudinal studies; and essential to practitioners who require current practice information.

The Philosopher's Index

For all areas of philosophy

The Philosopher's Index is a bibliographic database with informative, author-written abstracts covering scholarly research in all areas of philosophy. The literature covered goes back to 1894 and includes journal articles, books, book chapters, contributions to anthologies and book reviews.

The Philosopher's Index monitors over 1,000 titles from more than 20 countries and is updated quarterly. Extensive indexing includes personal and proper names along with subject terms. There is also the possibility to search for the authors of book reviews.

Digital National Security Archive (DNSA) FT

Valuable primary source material for studying US foreign policy since 1945

Published with the cooperation of the National Security Archive, the DNSA is the most comprehensive collection available of significant primary documents central to US foreign and military policy since 1945. More than 66,000 of the most important, declassified documents – totalling more than 500,000 pages – have been gathered through extensive use of the US 'Freedom of Information Act' (FOIA). Many are published now for the first time. The archive is currently made up of 32 collections, each focusing on an important topic, with new collections being added every year.

PolicyFile

The leading web-based resource for information on public policy issues

PolicyFile provides access to today's critical issues, affording immediate access to over 330 think tanks, research organisations and advocacy groups including the Hoover Institution, International Monetary Fund, Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development, RAND Corporation and the World Bank. PolicyFile links directly to current research on virtually every public policy issue – US and international. A database of over 106,000 records is updated weekly and more than 50% of the abstracts link directly to the full text of research reports and studies.

ProQuest Criminal Justice Periodicals Index™ (CJPI) FT

A comprehensive database of US and international criminal justice journals

The publications indexed in CJPI provide research support for professionals in law enforcement, corrections administration, drug enforcement, rehabilitation, family law and industrial security. The focus of most publications is practical, rather than theoretical. CJPI includes abstracts and indexing for more than 240 titles, as well as full text and/or full image for over 80 of those titles. Indexing dates from 1981 onwards, abstracts from 1999 onwards, and full text and/or full image from 1994 onwards (earlier for some titles).

Criminal Justice Abstracts

Broad coverage of criminal justice

Produced by SAGE in cooperation with the Don M Gottfredson Library of Criminal Justice at Rutgers University Law Library, Criminal Justice Abstracts covers crime trends, crime prevention and deterrence, juvenile delinquency, juvenile justice, police, courts, punishment and sentencing.

This extensive coverage is comprised of international journals, books, reports, dissertations and unpublished papers on criminology and related disciplines.

National Criminal Justice Reference Service (NCJRS) Abstracts Database

From alternatives to incarceration to the victims of crime

NCJRS Abstracts Database is published by the US Department of Justice and contains summaries of over 216,500 US and international publications, including federal, state and local government reports, books, research reports, journal articles, audio-visual presentations and unpublished research. It covers all manner of research, policy and practice related to criminal and juvenile justice and drug control.

The collection has been developed to meet the needs of criminal justice professionals, researchers, policymakers and technical and legal experts. Unique elements of the collection include agency-produced documents and final grant reports of Office of Justice Programs sponsored research.

Communication

ProQuest Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts

International literature on linguistics and the language sciences

ProQuest Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts database covers all aspects of the study of language including phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax and semantics. Complete coverage is given to various fields of linguistics including descriptive, historical, comparative, theoretical and geographical linguistics. The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations plus book reviews drawn from over 1,550 serials publications. It also provides abstracts of books, book chapters and dissertations.

Communication Abstracts

International communications literature for a global perspective

A comprehensive source of information about communication-related publications on a global scale, Communication Abstracts covers communication-related articles, reports, papers and books from a variety of publishers, research institutions and information sources. Coverage dates from 1977 and includes not only communication literature but also literature in other related disciplines, including:

- Crisis communication
- Literature in film studies
- Public opinion
- Risk communication
- The role of technology in human communications

ComDisDome

Comprehensive coverage of communications disorders literature

ComDisDome covers communications disorders literature, with focus on speech-language pathology and audiology. In one convenient location, the database quickly identifies and connects you to reliable information from multiple sources in your field, including journal articles and books, along with access to profiles of researchers working in this area.

Alt-PressWatch™

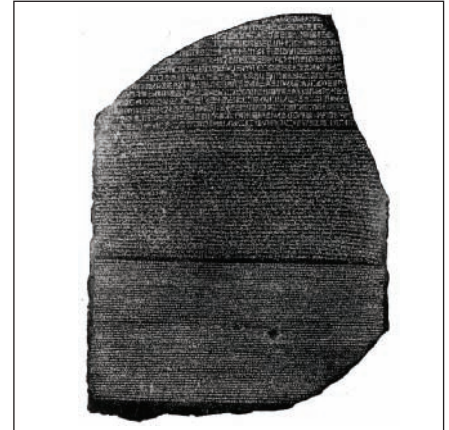

The alternative and independent press in full text: challenging the status quo

Alt-PressWatch showcases unique, independent voices from some of the most respected and cited grassroots newspapers, magazines, and journals, primarily from the US. The database features over 670,000 articles from more than 210 publications, offering a wide range of unfettered, critical coverage of the news. All of these varied alternative and independent presses are presented in 100% full text, allowing researchers total access to regional, rural and metropolitan perspectives on local, national and international issues.

Alt-PressWatch presents big stories from small sources, which makes it an unmatched, multi-disciplinary resource for researchers seeking an alternative to corporate controlled and mainstream media perspectives. Researchers benefit from distinctive, thought-provoking titles (many of which cannot be found in any other database):

- Magazines and journals of the independent press
- In-depth coverage of a broad range of critical issues confronting contemporary society, (such as environment activism, disabilities, public policy, and facets of the political spectrum)
- Alternative news weeklies that offer non-mainstream perspectives on government, policy, and culture
- Reports on local, national and international issues (such as hunger, abuse, religion and pop culture)

Titles include: Broken Pencil; Dissent; Against the Current; The American Conservative; Left Curve; The Braille Forum; Earth First!; Eugene Weekly; Missoula Independent; The Village Voice and many more.

The Arts, Humanities and other topics

The following databases represent a selection from the allied field of Humanities. To learn about our full range of Humanities products, request your copy of the Humanities brochure, see back cover or talk to your local representative for more details.

International Index to Music Periodicals (IIMP)

Indexes more than 450 international music periodicals from over 25 countries

IIMP is the leading specialised index in this field and currently contains over 750,000 citation records, the majority of which index the most recent 10 years of publication. Indexed titles cover both scholarly and popular periodicals in the areas of classical music, opera, jazz, popular music and pop culture, music education, musicology, music theory, and more.

IIMP now also offers a separate reference search, retrieving Naxos reference content including opera synopses, glossary, music fundamental terms and pronunciation audio files.

IIMP: Full Text

FT

Combining IIMP with the added depth of full-text searching

International Index to Music Periodicals (IIMP) Full Text combines IIMP with the added depth of full-text searching, providing an important advantage for music librarians, bibliographers, researchers, teachers and students alike. It currently holds over 140 full-text journals including:

- Choral Journal
- Fanfare
- Music Educators Journal
- Notes
- Psychology of Music
- Rolling Stone

International Index to Performing Arts (IIPA)

A multidisciplinary, information resource designed specifically for the performing arts

Access to over 520,000 records from over 300 performing arts periodicals, covering a broad spectrum of subjects, IIPA provides indexing and abstracts across a range of areas including:

- Arts
- Circus performance
- Comedy
- Dance
- Stagecraft
- Storytelling
- Television and broadcast
- Theatre

IIPA not only provides access to over 260 performing arts periodicals from 1998 onwards, it also provides retrospective access to many select titles – some back to their inception.

IIPA: Full Text

FT

All of IIPA plus the full text of more than 100 key performing arts journals

The full-text support to International Index to Performing Arts (IIPA), this supplies the researcher with key performing arts journals such as:

- American Theatre
- Dance Teacher
- Theatre Journal
- Village Voice

Featuring the most current records and updated monthly, IIPA Full Text provides an abstract, and for every article from 1998 onwards, the thesaurus-controlled indexing for every citation. Links to Project MUSE titles are supplied where full text is not available.

Film Index International (FII)

The definitive online resource for the study of international films and personalities

Produced in collaboration with the BFI (British Film Institute), FII provides coverage of over 125,000 films from 170 countries, dating from the first silent movies of 1900 to present day blockbusters. Based on the Summary of Film and Television (SIFT) database collated by the BFI over the past 70 years, it allows users to search worldwide film awards, plot summaries and full lists of cast and crew.

Biographical information is also provided for over 830,000 personalities; the database is updated twice yearly.

ProQuest Religion™

Comprehensive coverage of religious issues and perspectives

ProQuest Religion offers users in-depth coverage of religious issues and perspectives with publications in the following categories: religious news and information, commentary on topics of general interest from the perspective of a particular religion, and formal theological studies. Titles that are primarily devotional in nature are not included. Primary faiths represented in the database are Christianity, Islam, Judaism and Buddhism.

ProQuest Religion delivers over 150 titles, virtually all available in full text and/or full image. Abstracts and indexing date from 1986 onwards, with full text/images from 1992 onwards.

ProQuest Military Collection™

A unique, comprehensive collection covering military subjects

ProQuest Military Collection includes over 550 titles, with more than 400 available in full text and/or image and has become a very popular selection for inclusion in institutional research portfolios. It offers researchers access to titles (some of which date back to 1916) that cover topics ranging across all government and military branches including defence, aeronautics and space flight, civil engineering, political science, international relations, communications, criminology, history and meteorology.

Titles include Marine Corps Gazette (dating back to 1916), Leatherneck (dating back to 1921) and Foreign Affairs (dating back to 1923).
